

Al Salam Bank Announces Platinum Sponsorship of the Annual Reception for Bahraini Banks in Washington, D.C.

Manama, Bahrain –25 September 2025: Al Salam Bank has announced its Platinum Sponsorship of the annual reception hosted by the Bahrain Association of Banks (BAB), set to take place in Washington, D.C. on 16 October 2025. The event coincides with the annual meetings of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the World Bank, and is expected to attract wide participation from Bahraini banks and senior delegations from both the public and private financial institutions.

On this occasion, Rafik Nayed, Group CEO of Al Salam Bank, emphasized the Bank's strategic focus on promoting Bahrain's active participation in global financial dialogues. He noted that such gatherings are vital for exchanging insights with leading economic institutions, contributing to the long-term stability and future growth of the financial sector, while also positioning Bahrain as a key player in the global economic landscape.

He further stated that this prestigious reception has become an annual tradition that strengthens Bahrain's economic ties with its international partners, particularly in Washington, D.C. Mr. Nayed also commended the Bahrain Association of Banks for its ongoing efforts to showcase the capabilities of the Kingdom's banking sector and to create new opportunities for cooperation, reinforcing the sector's position as a trusted partner in the global financial ecosystem.

The Bahrain Association of Banks praised the role of Al Salam Bank for its significant contribution in enhancing the outcomes of the event and achieving its intended objectives. BAB emphasized that such support provides valuable opportunities for Bahrain's banking sector to grow, expand, and showcase its achievements. The Association affirmed that the sponsorship reflects the spirit of deep-rooted partnership and collaboration that characterizes Bahrain's financial and banking sector, and clearly demonstrates the leading role played by national financial institutions in supporting the Kingdom's economic development.

The Association further noted that the reception represents a valuable opportunity to demonstrate the strength and resilience of Bahrain's financial system, its ability to navigate global developments, and its unwavering commitment to the highest standards of governance and transparency. These factors continue to position the Kingdom as a preferred destination for international investment and strategic partnerships.
